

Extreme Negative Temperature Policy

We, _____ ("Supplier"), acknowledge and understand that UNFI typically does not pick up less than truckload shipments that require any product to be maintained below -10 degrees, and thus UNFI does not have expertise in this area. Notwithstanding the immediately preceding sentence, we desire for UNFI to pick up and transport certain products that must be kept below -10 degrees during transport. As UNFI typically does not provide this option to its suppliers and does not have expertise in this area, notwithstanding anything set forth in any written agreement between UNFI and Supplier to the contrary, Supplier agrees to indemnify and hold harmless UNFI from any and all direct or indirect claims, damages, losses, costs or expenses (including reasonable attorney's fees) incurred by UNFI in connection with UNFI transporting such products that must be maintained below -10 degrees; except that Supplier indemnification obligations shall not extend to any claims, damages, losses, costs or expenses that are caused by UNFI's gross negligence or willful misconduct, and in such a case, UNFI shall indemnify and hold harmless Supplier with respect to any direct or indirect claims, damages, losses, costs or expenses (including reasonable attorney's fees) incurred by Supplier.
